(3) The Court may at any time order the plaintiff to make an élection de domicile or to amend the élection de domicile made by him.

(4) The plaintiff may at any time change the élection de domicile made by him; but the change is not effective until written notice thereof is given to the Greffier and to all other parties to the action.

(5) The plaintiff's élection de domicile, or any amendment or change made thereto under paragraphs (3) or (4), shall remain valid until the action is terminated (whether by final execution of the judgment or otherwise).

Failure to appear.

- (a) an Advocate has certified, or the Court is otherwise satisfied, that the defendant has a real prospect of successfully defending the action, or
- (b) it appears to the Court that there is some other good reason why the judgment should be set aside or varied or the defendant allowed to defend the action.

(3) When considering whether to set aside or vary a judgment in default of defences, the matters to which the Court must have regard include whether the application for the judgment to be set aside or varied has been made promptly.

(7) Should the plaintiff intend to table his defences earlier than 28 days after the inscription of the action on the Rôle des Causes à Plaider, or such other period as may be substituted in accordance with paragraph (6), he shall give notice of such intention to the defendant.

(8) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (5), the period within which defences may be tabled in respect of any counterclaim may be extended by agreement between the parties (without reference to the Court) up to a maximum of 3 months after the inscription of the counterclaim on the Rôle des Causes à Plaider.

(9) When defences have been tabled the counterclaim shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be inscribed on the Rôle des Causes en Preuve, notwithstanding that the defences contain exceptions.

(2) Anything which in the ordinary course of any proceedings is required or authorised by these Rules to be done by a party to the proceedings shall or may, if the party is an infant or person under legal disability, be done by his tuteur or curateur, as the case may be, or by the person appointed to act on his behalf pursuant to paragraph (1).

(3) In this Rule, for the avoidance of doubt, the expression "tuteur" shall be deemed to include, without limitation, a natural parent of an infant.

Representative proceedings.

33. (1) Where more than one person has the same interest in a claim –

(a) the claim may be begun, or

(2) The Court may direct that a person may not act as a representative.

(3) Any party may apply to the Court for an order under paragraph (2).

(4) Unless the Court otherwise directs, any judgment or order given in a claim in which a party is acting as a representative under this Rule –

- (a) is binding on all persons represented in the claim, but

- (c) cannot easily be ascertained, or
- (d) is a class of persons who have the same interest in a action and –

Consolidated text

- (i) one or more members of that class are within sub-paragraphs (a), (b) or (c); or
  - (ii) to appoint a representative would further the overriding objective.
- (3) An application for an order under paragraph (2) –
  - (a) may be made by –
    - (i) any person who seeks to be appointed under the order, or
    - (ii) any party to the action, and

- (4) A party intending to apply for an order under paragraph (2) shall give notice of his intention by service of a signification, together with a copy of any affidavit evidence supporting his application, upon –
  - (a) all parties to the action, if the action has started,
  - (b) the person sought to be appointed, if that person is not the applicant or a party to the action, and
  - (c) any other person as directed by the Court.
- (5) The Court's approval is required to settle an action in which a party is acting as a representative under this Rule.

(6) The Court may approve a settlement where it is satisfied that the settlement is for the benefit of all represented persons.

(7) Unless the Court otherwise directs, any judgment or order given in an action in which a party is acting as a representative under this Rule –

(a) is binding on all persons represented in the action, but

(b) may only be enforced by or against a person who is not a party to the action with the leave of the Court.

Third parties.

36. (1) Where in any action the defendant claims –

- (a) against a person not a party to the action, any contribution or indemnity,
- (b) against any such person, any relief or remedy relating to or connected with the original subject-matter of the action and substantially the same as some relief or remedy claimed by the plaintiff, or
- (c) that any question or issue relating to or connected with the original subject-matter of the action should be determined not only between the plaintiff and himself, but also between either or both of them and a person not a party to the action, the defendant may add that person as a third party by serving upon him a summons in that behalf signed by the defendant or his Advocate.

(2) The Court may make such order as it thinks just in relation to the addition of the third party as to –

- (a) the filing of pleadings,
- (b) the delivery of affidavits, and
- (c) any other incidental matter.

(3) Where a third party is added, he shall from that time be a party to the action as if he were a defendant sued in the ordinary way by the party who added him, and the provisions of these Rules shall apply accordingly.

(4) Where judgment (by default or otherwise) is pronounced against a third party, the judgment shall not affect the rights of the original parties to the action as between themselves.

(5) Where a third party is added, the Court may, at or after the trial of the action (or, if the action is decided otherwise than by trial, on an application by any party to the action), give such judgment as the nature of the case may require for the defendant against the third party or for the third party against the defendant.

(6) Where judgment is pronounced –

(a) against a defendant, and

(b) for the defendant against a third party,

the judgment against the third party shall not be executed without leave of the Court, whether or not the judgment against the defendant has been wholly or partially satisfied.

(7) Where in any action the defendant claims in his defences –

(a) against a person already a party to the action, any contribution or remedy,

(b) against any such person, any relief or remedy relating to or connected with the original subject-matter of the action and substantially the same as some relief or remedy claimed by the plaintiff, or determined not only between the plaintiff and himself, but also between either or both of them and a person already a party to the action, the Court may order that that person be added as a third party, and the provisions of paragraph (2) shall apply accordingly.

(8) Where a third party is added, and he makes such a claim as is mentioned in paragraph (1) or (7), this Rule shall apply as if that third party were a defendant.

(9) For the purposes of this Rule, "third party" shall mean any party to the action other than the plaintiff or defendant.

Removal or adding of parties.

(ii) between whom and any party to the proceedings there exists a question or issue arising out of or relating to or connected with any relief or remedy claimed in the proceedings which, in the opinion of the Court, it would be just and convenient to determine as between him and that party as well as between the parties to the proceedings, shall be added as a party.

- (2) No person shall be added as a plaintiff without his consent.

(2) Where the Court dispenses with the necessity for a case management conference, it shall immediately –

Judgment without trial after striking out.

54. (1) This Rule applies where the Court makes an order which includes a term that the pleading of a party be struck out if that party does not comply with the order.

(2) Where an order has been made striking out the whole of a party's pleading, any other party may apply for judgment with costs to be entered in his favour.

(4) Where the party applying for judgment is the plaintiff and the claim is for –

- (a) a specified sum of money,
- (b) an amount of money to be decided by the Court,
- (c) delivery of goods, where the claim gives the defendant the alternative of paying their value, or

(b) specifies the consequences of failure to comply,

the time for doing the act in question may not be extended by agreement between the parties.

Relief from sanctions.

57. (1) On an application for relief from any sanction imposed for a failure to comply with any rule, order or direction, the Court will consider all the
