(3) The application shall be verified by being countersigned by—

(2) He shall not allow any cremation to take place if it appears that the deceased left a written direction to the contrary.

(3) He shall not (except where an inquest has been held and certificate given by the Magistrate in Form E in the First Schedule to this Ordinance) allow any cremation to take place unless he is satisfied that the death of the deceased has been duly registered by the production of a certificate of registry of death on one of the forms provided by the Registrar of Deaths for production in cases of burial.

(4) He shall, before allowing the cremation, examine the application and certificates and ascertain that they are such as are required by this Ordinance and that the inquiry made by the persons giving the certificates has been adequate. He may make any inquiry with regard to the application and certificates that he may think necessary.

(5) He shall not allow the cremation unless he is satisfied that the application is made by an executor or by the nearest surviving relative of the deceased, or if made by any other person, that the fact that the executor or nearest relative has not made the application is sufficiently explained, and that the person making the application is a proper person to do so.

(6) He shall not allow the cremation unless he is satisfied that the fact and cause of death have been definitely ascertained; and in particular, if the cause of death assigned in the medical certificates be such as, regard being had to all the circumstances might be due to poison, to violence, to any illegal operation, or to privation or neglect, he shall not allow the cremation unless a post-mortem examination be held, and if a post-mortem fails to reveal the cause of death, shall decline to allow the cremation unless an inquest be held and a certificate be given by the Magistrate in the said Form E.

(7) If it appears that death was due to poison, to violence, to any illegal operation, or to privation or neglect, or if there are any suspicious circumstances whatsoever, whether revealed in the certificates or otherwise coming to his knowledge, he shall decline to allow the cremation unless an inquest be held and a certificate given by the Magistrate in the said Form E.

(8) If it is intended to hold an inquest on the body he shall not allow the cremation to take place until the inquest has been held, or until the Magistrate has given permission to dispose of the body.

(9) He may in any case decline to allow the cremation without stating any reason:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall affect the fulfilment of the provisions of the Law entitled "Loi relative à l'enregistrement des naissances et décès dans le Bailliage de l'Île de Guernesey" registered on the Records of this Island on the ninth day of March, nineteen hundred and thirty-five^(b).

Still-born children.

12. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Ordinance, a Law Officer of the Crown may permit the cremation of the remains of a still-born child if it be certified after examination of the body in this Island to be still-born by a medical practitioner authorised to practise in this Island or elsewhere so certified by a medical practitioner who is shown to the satisfaction of a Law Officer to possess qualifications substantially equivalent to the minimum qualifications required to be possessed by a medical practitioner practising in this Island, and if the Consultant Pathologist, after such enquiries as he may think necessary, declares in writing that he is satisfied that it was still-born and that there is no reason for further examination.

Disposition of ashes.

13. After the cremation of the remains of a deceased person, the ashes shall be given into the charge of the person who applied for the cremation if he so desires. If not, they shall be retained by the Committee and in the absence of any special arrangement for their burial or preservation, they shall be decently interred in a burial ground or scattered on the land reserved for the burial or scattering of ashes. In the case of ashes left temporarily in the charge of the Committee and not removed within a reasonable time, a fortnight's notice by the Committee shall be given to the person who applied for the cremation before the remains are interred or scattered.

The Committee shall immediately after a cremation has taken place make a record thereof and shall deliver the same dated and signed by its authorised officer at the Office of the Registrar of Deaths within 24 hours of the cremation. The record shall be made by entries in Form G in the First Schedule to this Ordinance except the entry in the last column, which the Committee shall make at the office of the Registrar of Deaths as soon as the remains of the deceased have been handed to the relatives or otherwise disposed of. The Registrar of Deaths shall keep a register of all cremations in the said Form G.
