ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS

1. Are there any other matters relating to the proposed consent order that the court should consider? For example, medical conditions, change of employment, any significant change in circumstances, or an agreement already reached between you (e.g. a pre-nuptial agreement, a post-nuptial agreement or a separation agreement). If you have a pension valuation which is different from the cash equivalent value set out above, please set it out here. If your states pension is not in payment set out brief details here of your expected entitlement.

2. Please explain concisely the main reasons for your proposed consent order's division of assets (e.g. meeting a particular housing or other need, dividing assets equally, dividing assets unequally for a particular reason or making an assessment of higher or lower earning capacity)

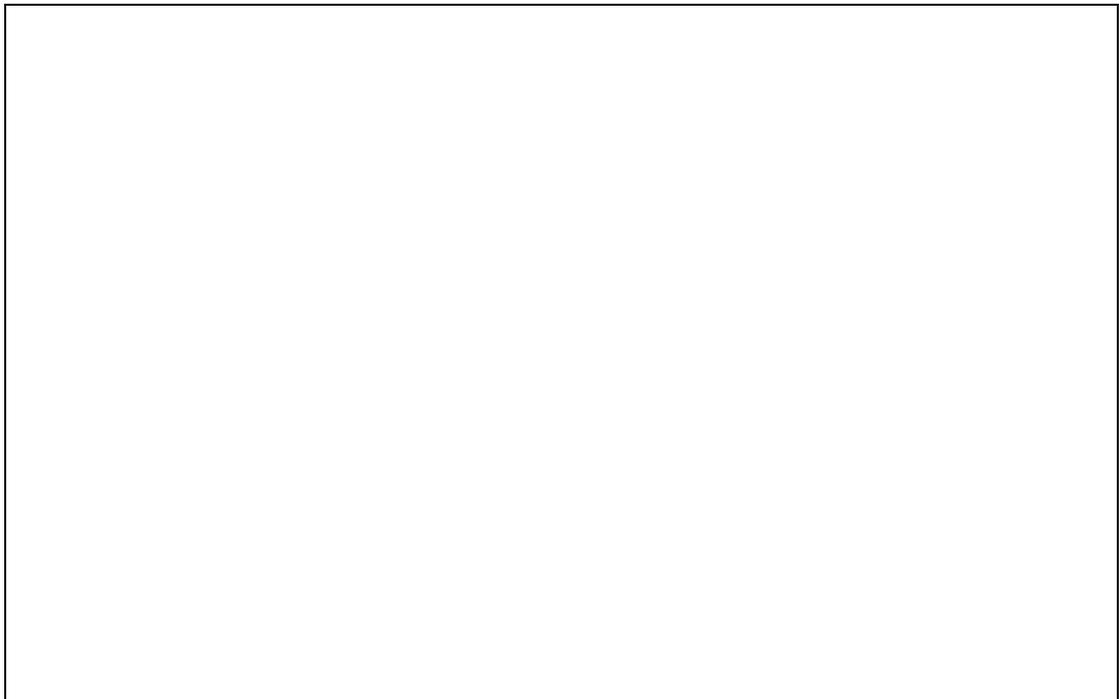

If your proposed consent order offsets pension assets against capital assets, please explain briefly how the offsetting agreement has been reached. Offsetting means that one party keeps all or part of their pension in exchange for the other party keeping or receiving other non-pension assets.

3. If there is to be a clean break, explain briefly how each party will support themselves.
